Yes, students must submit the first two parts of the application packet before they can count their hours towards school credit.