

Woodside High School

Athlete of the Week
September 9, 2019

Josh Peterson

The Athlete of the Week is Josh Peterson. Josh is a senior running back and kick returner on the varsity football team. He is an experienced football player who has been playing for the last seven years. He balances academics and athletics by using his free periods to do homework and study before practice. If given the opportunity to compete against any athlete, it would be Luke Kuechly of the Carolina Panthers. His motivation comes from his dad because he pushes him to improve and become a better football player. In the spring, Josh is a sprinter on the WHS Track team, but considers himself a better football player than track sprinter. Josh enjoys football because of the strong team dynamic and comradery. His advice to students is to “focus on what they want to do in life and have a strong work ethic.” Of the “8 Conditions” Josh resonates with Sense of Accomplishment because of the hard work that is needed for success as a student athlete.
